PRESS RELEASE

Call for craft vendors

The seventh annual Winter Folk Festival is accepting applications for craft vendors. The festival will be held at the Florence Event Center on January 17 & 18, 2009. All vendors will be juried, and craft artisans who can demonstrate their craft will be given special consideration. The deadline for applications is October 1, 2008. After jury decisions are made, applicants will be notified by November 3, 2008.

There are 32, 8x10 booths available for rent. Each booth will include pipe, drape, 2 chairs, and an 8' or 6' table. Skirting and linens are available at an additional cost. The booth cost for the weekend is $65 or $55 for not-for-profit organizations. There is a limit of one booth per vendor.

There will be music and food throughout the festival. Last year's festival drew over 2,000 attendees. New this year is free admission to the craft fair. Come join us.

Applications are available at the Florence Events Center, 715 Quince Street or you can read about the Winter Folk Festival and download a vendor application at <http://www.winterfolkfestival.org>. For more information or questions call the FEC at 541-997-1994.
